Private/Group Tuition & Private Candidates Examination and Training Centre

In partnership with Tutor House we are extending our traditional services to offer students in London a one-stop solution for their educational needs. We are now very happy to offer group tuition and as well being able to provide first-class examinations facility right in the heart of London.

Tutor House's pool of teaching professionals works tirelessly to ensure its clients are completely prepared for any upcoming examinations. The M2M exam service compliments these efforts by providing a modern, clean, comfortable examination facility to those that require it. While Tutor House's friendly approach ensures a relaxed learning environment, so too does M2M in the face of what is sometimes a stressful experience.

Moreover, the partnership can now offer dedicated evening and weekend courses to students all over London. Running up to 5 evenings per week and on Saturdays, Tutor House experts will be teaching groups of up to 30 students in M2M's purpose-built training facility.

Be it Common Entrance, Pre U, Modern Languages or Statistics, short-course retakes or intensive revision courses, individual requirements can be met at group prices:

Tutor House is an independent tutoring company based in London. It is recognised as providing exceptional Common Entrance, GCSE and A-Level tuition through its team of outstanding tutors. We have over 300 tutors, most are Oxbridge graduates with over 5 years teaching experience. Crucially, they are teachers (not just tutors) and have all worked in schools; they are all completely up to date with the current exam boards and subject syllabuses.

Additionally, Tutor House has a team of dedicated specialists capable of offering School and University advice, Common Entrance preparation, international student programmes and specialist educational support, including Dyslexia.

We provide a bespoke tuition service for all clients, we meet all parents and children. We take the time to pair tutors with children. Tutor House is a personal and flexible company, and we work around you. We offer full time home tuition, weekly private tuition, exam preparation and specialist short retake courses.

M2M Exams is London's premier examination centre catering specifically to the individual student or 'private candidate'. They provide a full invigilation/proctoring service for commercial, professional, academic and vocational examinations which need to be conducted remotely from the examination board to exacting standards with precise supervision.

They are directly mandated by a number of examination authorities in the UK and abroad as their designated examination centre in London and the surrounding areas. The service is also open to and used extensively by students studying in the UK whilst taking professional courses with internationally recognised institutions.

Students the world over utilise M2M's purpose-built examination centre to fulfil their examination requirements. Examination boards and authorities the world over rely on M2M to provide professional invigilation and proctoring services to the exacting standards necessary.
